EU e-Learning module

Registered Exporter – REX

Leading for results. Learning for purpose.

The Registered Exporter (REX) is a system of certification of origin of goods based on a principle of self-certification. The origin of goods is declared by economic operators themselves by means of so-called statements on origin.

The easy-to-use eLearning course Registered Exporter – REX is based on he Union Customs Code and is produced by the European Commission Directorate General for Taxation and Customs (TAXUD) under the Customs 2020 Programme

Scope

This course guides you through the new legal provisions for trading goods under the GSP scheme of the EU and the related procedures.

Upon completion of the course, you will be able to confidently work with the REX system in accordance with your role and responsibility in the REX process flow.

Although this course focuses on explaining how the REX system applies to trade between GSP beneficiary countries and the EU, it may equally apply to other GSP schemes or preferential arrangements, and even more be enlarged to preferential trade agreements.

Audience

Customs professionals in the public and private sector from the EU and beneficiary countries dealing with customs matters related to trading goods under the GSP scheme with the EU or other preferential arrangements and trade agreements.
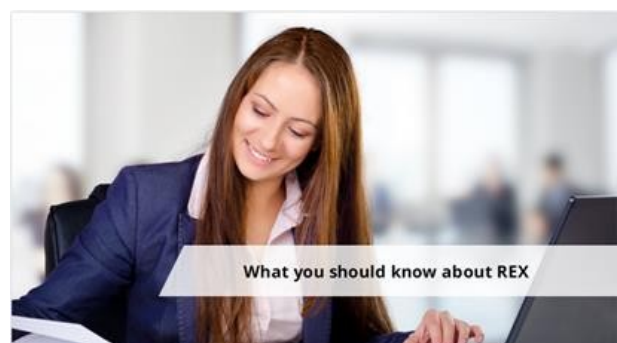

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, you will have learned about:
- what a registered exporter is;
- when the REX system applies;
- the impact the REX system has on your activities;
- the processes that have to be followed in the REX system.

You will also be able to confidently use the REX System depending on your role.

To benefit fully from the course and to achieve the learning outcomes, it is recommended to integrate it in your own training programme and develop a blended learning strategy.

What you should know about REX

Features

This course is designed to address the needs of multiple profiles.
The sections 1 to 4 are common to all profiles. Section 5 and 6 offer you tailored content in function of your profile based on a short questionnaire.

You can experience real examples with "hands-on" activities, real exercises in the system, that can be played during the course.

You may interrupt your course at any time. When reopening the course, you can resume where you left off.

Beside the menu, a course map allows you to quickly access to the sections and subsections. The course map is placed in the upper toolbar of the course.

A course summary of the most relevant information is available in a printable format in the course. You can also print any screen of the course with the print option.
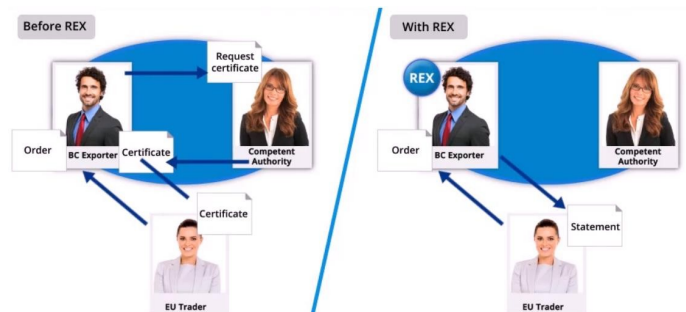

Course duration

The course takes 1 to 2 hours depending on your profile and role in the various REX process flows.
